Greenberg Traurig Senior Vice President and Shareholder Nikki Lewis Simon has made significant contributions to the legal profession and to the promotion of diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) in her roles at the global law firm and her work with clients. Here's how:

- Chief DEI Officer: As the firm's Chief DEI Officer, Nikki designs and guides strategic initiatives to deepen firmwide diversity, equity, and inclusion efforts. These efforts enrich client engagements and community investments and are integral to Greenberg Traurig's core values of collaboration and inclusion.
- Commercial Litigator: With over two decades of experience as a commercial litigator, Nikki has represented her clients' business objectives by protecting their human, intellectual, and financial capital against claims of wrongdoing in complex commercial and class action litigation.
- DEI Consulting Team Member: Given her experience, Nikki is an active member of Greenberg Traurig's Labor & Employment Practice's DEI Consulting team. This team provides pragmatic employment legal advice that addresses the client's risk tolerance, cultural realities, operational bandwidth, and budget.
- Community Service: Nikki also is committed to community service through her church and in civic and professional organizations. Among other organizations, she is a member of The Florida Bar Board of Governors, representing Miami-Dade County, and serves on the board of the Kozyak Minority Mentoring Foundation.
- Education: Nikki graduated with honors from both Florida A & M University and the University of Miami School of Law.

Through these roles and contributions, Nikki Lewis Simon has positively influenced the legal profession, particularly in the area of creating a profession that welcomes all, while providing valuable services to her clients.
