Sunshine State Insider: 2026 Florida General Election Report

The 2026 Florida General Election was held Nov. 3. Below are the unofficial results. This election cycle included races for Governor, Attorney General, Chief Financial Officer, Commissioner of Agriculture, a U.S. Senate seat, and Florida's congressional and legislative seats.

In the Florida Legislature, Republicans maintained their majorities in both chambers but lost their two-thirds supermajorities. Based on unofficial results, the Florida Senate is projected to consist of 25 Republicans and 14 Democrats, with one vacancy. Senate District 39 is vacant due to a resignation and will be filled in a special election. The Florida House of Representatives is projected to consist of 70 Republicans and 50 Democrats.

At the voter registration deadline for the 2026 Florida General Election, there were 5,687,032 registered Republicans and 4,146,172 registered Democrats. Including 3,871,291 voters registered with minor parties or no party affiliation, Florida had a total of 13,704,495 registered voters.

At the federal level, Republican Ashley Moody won the U.S. Senate race, receiving 50.87% of the vote, compared with 47.99% for Democrat Angie Nixon and 1.14% for no-party-affiliation candidate Neil J. Gillespie. Moody was elected to serve the remaining two years of Marco Rubio's term and will face reelection in 2028 for a full six-year term. Based on unofficial results, Florida's U.S. House delegation is projected to remain at 20 Republicans and eight Democrats, pending the outcome of several close races.

At the state level, Republican Byron Donalds was elected Governor alongside running mate Bryan Avila, receiving 50.02% of the vote, compared with 48.71% for Democrats David Jolly and Gwen Graham. Donalds will become Florida's first Black governor and is the first Black Republican elected governor in U.S. history. Republicans also retained all three Florida Cabinet positions. James Uthmeier was elected Attorney General with 50.93% of the vote, Blaise Ingoglia was elected Chief Financial Officer with 50.94%, and Wilton Simpson was elected Commissioner of Agriculture with 51.08%.

Based on unofficial results, voters also approved Amendment 3, which increases the homestead exemption for non-school property taxes to $150,000 in 2027 and $250,000 in 2028, with inflation adjustments thereafter, and lowers the annual cap on assessment increases for non-homestead properties from 10% to 5%. At a Nov. 4 press conference, Governor Ron DeSantis indicated he will call a special session before the end of his term to implement the property tax changes approved under Amendment 3.

Florida Amendments

Each proposed constitutional amendment requires at least 60% voter approval to pass.

Amendment 1 - Proposing an amendment to the State Constitution to increase the amount of funds that may be retained in the budget stabilization fund from 10% to 25% of general revenue collections, require the Legislature to transfer the lesser of $750 million or the amount required to reach 25% of the general revenue collections each year unless certain conditions are met, and allow the Legislature to withdraw funds for critical state needs.

Amendment failed with 40.90% voting in favor.

Amendment 2 - Proposing an amendment to the State Constitution to exempt tangible personal property habitually located or typically present on land classified as agricultural, used in the production of agricultural products or for agritourism activities, and owned by the landowner or leaseholder of the agricultural land from ad valorem taxation. If approved, this amendment would first apply for tax years beginning Jan. 1, 2027.

Amendment failed with 58.21% approval.

Amendment 3 - This amendment increases the homestead exemption, for all non-school taxes, to $150,000 in 2027 and $250,000 in 2028, and adjusts for inflation thereafter. It requires the Legislature to prescribe a uniform procedure for counties and municipalities, for their respective levies, to increase the homestead exemption up to full assessed value, and allows special districts, subject to referendum approval, to do the same. Persons who are not Florida residents on Dec. 31, 2026, will receive the existing homestead exemption upon qualifying for a homestead exemption, with the increased homestead exemption beginning with the fifth year of exemption, to the extent permitted by the U.S. Constitution. This amendment reduces the annual cap on assessment increases for non-homestead properties from 10% to 5%. This amendment requires counties and municipalities to use property taxes solely for public safety, education and schools, infrastructure, natural resources, bond debt service, retirement benefits for employees, and operations and administration. Other expenditures may be approved by county officers or county or municipal governing bodies unless prohibited by general law, notwithstanding Article VII, Section 9(a) of the Florida Constitution, which allows counties and municipalities to levy property taxes for their respective purposes. This amendment takes effect Jan. 1, 2027.

Amendment passed with 61.98% approval.
