  - Fellows of the American College of Employee Benefits Counsel;
  - Fellows in the Litigation Counsel of America; and
  - the author of the Matthew Bender treatise, "New York Employment Law."
- A Law360 Employment Group of the Year – 2011, 2013.
- A docket of more than 100 pending class and collective actions, making the practice one of the largest practices of its type in the U.S.
- Trials of every sort of jury, non-jury, arbitration, and administrative case in more jurisdictions than virtually any competitor.
- "Traditional" labor lawyers who practice all over the country, offering strategic advice for business structurings, as well as for straight-up labor relations situations. We were co-counsel to New Process Steel from the beginnings of its labor dispute, all the way to victory in the United States Supreme Court.

Labor & Employment | New Jersey

- Breadth and depth, providing services in virtually every human resource, benefits, or labor relations field imaginable, all over the globe. We think: “if an issue is out there, we have seen it; and if the issue is coming ‘round the bend,’ we are on top of it.”
- A senior practitioner from the appropriate locale/specialty, leading a thoroughly integrated team providing services (where it makes sense) from multiple offices, offering quality and experience-based, business objective-oriented, practical services, at fair prices.
- Set in the context of a 2000-lawyer general practice firm offering real-time experience in virtually every issue that could confront a business, because employment law issues do not arise in a vacuum.
