

Litigation

Greenberg Traurig's Litigation Department comprises more than 600 litigators in 36 offices throughout the United States and in Latin America, Europe and Asia. Our litigators have handled some of the most complex litigation in challenging jurisdictions around the world. Whether your organization is facing a single complex dispute or a portfolio of disputes, GT has vast resources across a wide range of practices and industries available to serve you. We work with you to develop a strategic approach to litigation coordinated across jurisdictions.

Our attorneys are prepared to take any case to trial and are experienced at managing litigation at every stage of the process. At the same time, our vast trial experience enables us to resolve cases short of trial upon the most favorable terms possible, where appropriate. The GT team will grow with your needs and our scale ensures that your needs will never outgrow us.

Top-Ranked Practice

Working with our Clients

Greenberg Traurig's litigation team is dedicated to increasing the experience and familiarity of our clients' in-house counsel with our litigation defenses and strategies. Our team has customized programs for many clients based on their specific needs. We collaborate with clients and co-counsel to build a unified litigation approach. Greenberg Traurig can:

- Educate counsel on science, medical literature, plaintiff strategies, and defenses in a given case, using outside consultants where appropriate;
- Provide trial preparation and training on potential alternatives for document collection, retention, and management, as well as training on the use of extranets and other technologies as needed; and
- Conduct training for company witnesses on the mechanics and subtleties of providing effective and appropriate deposition and trial testimony.

Litigation Support

The firm's litigation support department comprises experienced professionals dedicated to assisting the litigation group with case management, document control, discovery management, and trial coordination.

- State-of-the-art software and hardware solutions that facilitate case management, discovery and trial presentations
- Preparation and presentation of demonstrative evidence for arbitrations, evidentiary hearings and trials
- eDiscovery and eRetention teams that help clients identify and plan for the management of their electronically stored information to reduce cost and litigation risk
